Introduction

Dear School Leaver,

Finishing school is an exciting time, 13 long years of hard work and determination are about to finally come to an end. The transition to life after school can be daunting and it’s sometimes difficult to know what path to take, or the plans that you have so long worked for may have changed by circumstances outside of your control.

Enclosed are a number of contacts and organizations that may assist you in finding employment, provide advice on health and well-being, legal assistance, disability services, multicultural services and youth services.

The school is also a point of contact for you to use for further advice on your career and future pathways.

Centrelink Services

Career Planning & Work Experience

Centrelink's career planning can help you to make appropriate and realistic career choices. It's for job seekers who are having trouble deciding what they want in a career and needing direction - whether it is deciding on a course of study, upgrading their existing skills or just finding the right job. Ask Centrelink about Career Planning, Work for the Dole and Green Corps or search the Centrelink website for more information.

Social Work Services

Centrelink has a Social Work Service to assist people who may need extra help by offering short term counselling and support, giving information about or referring to other services in the community. In special circumstances, Social Workers can determine if you are eligible for payments and assist people who are in crisis or facing difficulties in their lives.

Phone the Centrelink Appointments line on 13 10 21 to:
- Speak directly to a Social Worker, or
- Make an appointment to see a Social Worker at your local Customer Service Centre.

Psychology Services

Centrelink psychologists can help you identify your potential to participate in employment, education, training and other social participation activities (such as volunteer work). They make recommendations on the most appropriate assistance to help you develop your potential.

If you want to see a Centrelink Psychologist call 13 2850 or ask a staff member at your local Centrelink Office.

Youth Allowance

Youth Allowance is a single income support payment for young people regardless of whether they are in education, training, looking for work or sick. Youth Allowance enables you to go from study to training to job seeking without changing payments.

If you are under 17, and have not completed Year 12, you are legally required to be in full time education, undertaking an Australian Apprenticeship or other training in order to qualify for Youth Allowance, although some exemptions apply.

You may be eligible for Youth Allowance if you are 16-20 years old and:
- Looking for full time work or undertaking a combination of approved activities, or have a temporary exemption from the participation and Activity Test requirements. If you do not have a Year 12 certificate or an equivalent qualification (Certificate level II or above) you will generally be expected to undertake study or training to meet the Activity Test.
- 16-24 years old and studying or undertaking an Australian Apprenticeship full-time.
- Other criteria – check with Centrelink to determine your eligibility

If your circumstances change you may no longer be eligible for the same amount of Youth Allowance. For example, if you leave full time study for part-time study or for employment (even casual or part-time employment). If you are overpaid because you didn’t tell Centrelink that your circumstances change you will have to pay back the money. When making a claim for Youth Allowance you will need to provide proof of identity as well as other documentation. These requirements are listed on the Youth Allowance claim form or you can check with Centrelink.

To apply contact Centrelink on 13 24 90. Full time students can apply online.

Youth Officers

Services for young people are targeted to individual needs and circumstances. Youth Teams aim to help young people understand and access the education, training and employment choices available to them and to identify their individual goals. This can involve further study, apprenticeship, traineeship choices, or help getting a job.

Officers in Youth Teams are specifically trained to work with young people. Young people now have access to a One to One Service Officer who provides a personalised service to help the young person negotiate appropriate pathways. This includes a variety of activities such as assessing eligibility for income support, employment placement, accommodation support, providing career information, and making accurate and relevant referrals to Centrelink specialist services and other relevant services in the community.
Disability Services (DES)

Disability Employment Services (DES) provides specialist assistance to job seekers with disabilities who require ongoing support to find and maintain employment. Eligible School Leavers can register directly with a DES.

Eligible School Leaver Definition

In accordance with the Disability Employment Service (DES) Deed, an Eligible School Leaver means a job seeker who directly registers with the DES Provider and who is seeking to transition from

- secondary school to post school employment; or
- a state or territory disability transition to work program to employment;

And has evidence that they

- attract additional educational funding due to their disability; or
- are receiving the Disability Support Pension.

To be eligible to Commence in DES as an Eligible School Leaver, the job seeker must also be:

- registering in their final year of secondary school; or
- first Registering with a DES provider immediately after participating in a state or territory government disability transition to work program.

Students who are in disability specialist schools or disability specialist classes in mainstream schools only require evidence that they are in that school or that class. Providers must also obtain evidence that the Student is a full-time student and is in their last year of school.

Futures for Young Adults Program

The Department of Human Services Futures for Young Adults Program (FFYA) provides support to students with a disability to make the transition to post-school options. It is available to eligible students from when they complete their schooling until they turn 21.

If you are leaving school early it is important to prepare for your support needs before you leave school. Make sure you understand what sort of support is available for you to continue with further education training or employment.

If you want to leave school early because your needs cannot be met in your school you may be able to work out an agreement with the school to continue your support in another course in the community.

It is your responsibility to tell your chosen education, training or employment support provider about your disability or medical condition as soon as you enrol or register. Make sure that you keep any useful information from your school that may help teachers or other workers give you the support you need.

National Disability Coordination Officer Program (NDCO)

The Department of Education Employment and Workplace Relations funds the NDCO Program. The NDCO program aims to improve the transition of people with a disability aged 15 to 64 into further education, training and employment.

Your National Disability Coordination Officer can help provide information, coordination and referral for people with a disability.
Transition to Employment (TTE)

The Transition to Employment (TTE) initiative in Victoria is being developed as part of the Futures for Young Adults (FFYA) program and provides a clear pathway for young people with a disability leaving school who are interested in pursuing employment, but who are not yet ready to move into employment or receive assistance through a Commonwealth employment program.

If you are eligible for FFYA, and interested in exploring employment, you may be eligible to access additional funds and supports via a TTE provider to give you an even better chance of achieving your goals.

Australian Disability Enterprise

Australian Disability Enterprises are commercial enterprises whose workforce is predominantly people with disability. Disability Business Services are especially suited to you if you have higher support needs and require a higher level of ongoing support.
